Abstract – A review of the literature on the effects of the 1997 Asian financial crisis on the economies of the Asian countries is presented. The review is organized into three parts. The first part discusses the impact of the crisis on the real economy, the second part discusses the impact on the financial system, and the third part discusses the impact on the labor market. The review concludes that the crisis has had a significant negative impact on the Asian economies, particularly in the real economy and the financial system. The labor market has also been affected, with a significant increase in unemployment. The review also discusses the impact of the crisis on the Asian countries' trade and investment relations with the rest of the world.
